Atlas Style

For sale at Rockbridge Country Holiday Park

Style by name and by nature, there is no doubt about the inspiration for the name of the Atlas Style.

The feeling of anticipation is amply rewarded as soon as you enter the open plan living area. A side entrance door opens onto an open hallway, which then reveals a bright, stylish living area. The natural light from the (almost) South facing patio doors is exceptional, filling the living area from front to back. Decking is included with this holiday home, extending the living area to offer a fabulous sun-trap. The quirky shaped kitchen has a chic matt black one and half sinks and drainer with mixer tap over. There's a built in microwave and fridge freezer along with plenty of cupboard space.

The interior hallway has a handy cupboard for boots and coats and leads to the main shower room, a guest bedroom - with 2 single beds - and the main bedroom - with dressing table area and en-suite w.c.
